

Intermediate Environmental Professional

Biologist / Agrologist

Full-Time, Permanent · Primarily Remote · Fraser Valley / Lower Mainland, BC · $30 – $42/hr

Frontier Environmental Consulting is seeking a biologist or agrologist to manage and deliver environmental projects across the Fraser Valley and Lower Mainland. The position is primarily remote, with your time split between a home office and field sites throughout the region.

WHO WE ARE

Frontier is a small consultancy by design. We compete on responsiveness, technical rigour, and being straightforward to work with. We hire for professional judgment and character. You will work directly with the firm's principal.

WHAT YOU'LL DO

- Lead multi-year environmental monitoring on local commercial project
- Riparian Areas Protection Regulation (RAPR) assessments, watercourse classifications and determinations (wetland experience an asset)
- Impact assessment and restoration design, implementation, and compliance monitoring
- Habitat and vegetation assessments, fish and amphibian salvages, benthic and fish utilization studies
- ALC permitting applications (NOI, Agricultural Capability Assessment)
- Technical reporting, Water Sustainability Act notifications and approvals, and municipal development permit support

Monitoring is one component of a varied mix of assessment, reporting, and permitting work. The successful candidate will carry projects from initiation through to final sign-off.

REQUIRED QUALIFICATIONS

- Registered, or immediately eligible for registration, with the College of Applied Biologists or the British Columbia Institute of Agrologists (RPBio or PAg)
- Approximately 2-5+ years of environmental consulting experience in British Columbia
- Based in the Fraser Valley or Lower Mainland
- Valid Class 5 driver's licence and access to a reliable vehicle
- Strong technical writing, with deliverables ready for client and regulatory review with minimal revision
- Experience completing municipal, provincial, and federal permit applications considered an asset

WHY FRONTIER

- $30 - $42 per hour, commensurate with experience and professional designation
- Primarily remote work arrangement
- Direct mentorship and client exposure from day one
- An early-hire role with opportunity for career growth
